

Infrastructure

Prominence understands the importance of infrastructure to human connectedness.

Fast-growing urban areas place burdensome demands on infrastructure providers while our regions grapple with issues of service provision and connectivity. Done well, infrastructure is the enabler of a higher quality of life. It allows us to travel safely and freely between our homes, jobs and play. It connects us to life's essential services and ensures we stay connected with friends and family. Infrastructure is also a critical driver of employment and economic growth.

Our consultants bring their extensive experience to life by partnering with clients across the full project lifecycle. This includes business cases, financial and economic modelling, project management, procurement and project assurance.

Why Prominence?

Prominence is the partner of choice for organisations looking to optimise their project lifecycle.

Our work in action

BUSINESS CASES AND ECONOMIC MODELLING

Prominence has led the development and review of complex business plans for big asset investments. We're able to do this because we're skilled in handling difficult financial and economic models, including CGE models. We make certain that investments match up with an organisation's goals, the needs of their business, stakeholders expectations and how much risk they're willing to take. We're also skilled at modelling out the economic impact of a project, whether on a small, local scale or larger state and national scale.

PROGRAM AND PROJECT MANAGEMENT SUPPORT

Since 2010, Prominence and its consultants have conducted over 150 program and project assurance reviews, covering Gateway assurance, health checks and deep dives. These reviews span high-value ICT projects, infrastructure projects, commercial developments and internal 'soft projects'. We deliver succinct reports with prioritised recommendations to keep projects focused on minimising risk and delivering benefits within budget and schedule.
